Neal Davis was along for many weekend tailgates and a few RV trips with in-laws before he and his wife bought their first RV, a 43' diesel pusher in 2016. Five years, 48,000 miles, including 4 months and 12,000 miles to Alaska and back in 2019, they traded for RV #2, a 36-foot diesel pusher. They returned in mid September from their second trip to Alaska in RV #2. Neal and his wife are retired. They live in east Tennessee, and care for the 120-acre family farm when not traveling. Not particularly handy, they have identified and patronize a diesel mechanic and RV shop for the many tasks they cannot complete. Join Neal as he provides his own personal insight and tips to help find the right RV and floorplan for your needs. Whether you are a first time buyer or seasoned veteran you will be sure to learn tips and tricks from Neal's real life, hands on experiences as well as some of the "bloopers" that will make your RV adventure much more enjoyable, such as almost driving away with the electric cord still attached to the campground pedestal.
